Introduction

At ECOS Mobility, we believe that diversity strengthens our organization and inclusion drives our success. As a people-driven mobility company serving diverse customers and communities, we are committed to creating a workplace where every individual is treated with dignity, fairness, and respect.

Our Policy reflects this commitment by ensuring equal opportunity, unbiased practices, and an inclusive culture across all levels of the Company. We strive to foster an environment where differences in background, thought, gender, age, and ability are valued, and everyone feels empowered to contribute meaningfully.

This Policy guides our approach to people practices, workplace conduct, and leadership behaviors, supporting a culture of belonging, accountability, and sustainable growth.

Purpose

The purpose of this Policy is to promote a workplace culture that values diversity, ensures equity, and fosters inclusion across ECOS Mobility. It aims to provide equal opportunities, eliminate discrimination and bias, and create an environment where all individuals feel respected, safe, and empowered to perform at their best.

Through this Policy, ECOS Mobility seeks to strengthen employee engagement, enhance service excellence, and uphold ethical, responsible, and inclusive business practices aligned with our values and statutory obligations.

Scope

This Policy applies to all employees, chauffeurs, contractual staff, sub-contractors, consultants, business partners, suppliers, vendors, visitors and customers at Company-controlled sites and Board of ECOS Mobility, across all level, grades, locations and operations.

This Policy is non-contractual and ECOS Mobility reserves the right to amend, modify, curtail, or revoke it at any time at its sole discretion. It is also subject to the local laws applicable in the employee's place of work, and international standards such as ISO 45001:2018 standard (Occupational health and safety management systems), Core Conventions of the International Labour Organisation, United Nations' Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. In case of any inconsistencies between ECOS Mobility policies and the relevant law, the law will prevail.

Where references in this Policy are made to "diversity", "equality", and "inclusion":

- Diversity is found in any social identity, such as race, ethnicity, nationality, religion, gender, relationship status, sexual orientation, age, parental status, disability or health, or any other attribute or status protected by the local laws or regulations of where we operate.
- Equality is the principle that guarantees equal treatment for everyone in the workplace. It ensures that all employees have an equal opportunity to excel, develop their skills, and advance in their careers.
- Inclusion is the process of involving, accepting, and valuing all people in the workplace regardless of their differences and social identity.

The scope covers all people-related processes and interactions, including but not limited to:

- Recruitment, onboarding, and deployment
- Training, development, and career progression
- Compensation, rewards, and recognition
- Workplace conduct, safety, and employee relations

All leaders and employees are expected to uphold the principles of this Policy and contribute actively to building an inclusive and equitable workplace.

Related Policies

This Policy should at all times be read in conjunction with the below policies which can be found on HROne portal of the Company:

- Code of Conduct
- Prevention of Sexual Harassment Policy
- Human and Labour Rights Policy
- WhistleBlower Policy
- Compensation Policy

all of which also play an important role in reinforcing a culture founded on principles of diversity, equality, and inclusion.

1. DISCRIMINATION, HARASSMENT AND BULLYING

We value and promote the diversity and inclusion of the people we work with. We are committed to equal opportunities in all aspects of employment and to providing workplaces that (subject always to local laws and regulations) are free from discrimination on the basis of race, ethnicity, nationality, religion, gender, relationship status, sexual orientation, age, parental status, disability or health or any status protected by applicable law (Protected Characteristics).

ECOS Mobility strictly prohibits harassment (including sexual harassment), bullying, or any other form of verbal, physical, or psychological violence in the workplace. Discrimination is treating someone less favourably because of a Protected Characteristic, for example, rejecting a job applicant because of their religious views. Discrimination can be either direct or indirect.

Harassment: For the purposes of this Policy, 'harassment' is any unwanted physical, verbal or non-verbal conduct that has the purpose or effect of violating a person's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for them. Harassment can be a 'course of conduct' over a period of time, or a single incident may also amount to harassment, depending on a case-to-case basis.

Harassment may involve conduct of a sexual nature (sexual harassment), or it may be related to any of the other Protected Characteristics. Harassment is unacceptable, even if it does not fall within any of the Protected Characteristics.

Examples of harassment may include, without limitation:

- Unwanted physical conduct or 'horseplay,' including touching, pinching, pushing and/or grabbing;
- Unwelcome sexual advances or suggestive behavior (which the harasser may perceive as harmless);
- Offensive e-mails, text messages or social media content;
- Non-verbal conduct such as ignoring, staring, leering and giving inappropriate gifts;
- Unwelcome remarks, jokes, slurs, mocking, mimicking or belittling a person on the grounds of any of the above characteristics;
- Visual images such as derogatory or offensive pictures, cartoons, drawings or gestures whether in hardcopy or otherwise;

A person can be harassed even if they were not the intended 'target.' For instance, a person may feel harassed by racist jokes about a different ethnic group if the jokes create an offensive environment.

Bullying: For the purposes of this Policy, 'bullying' refers to offensive, intimidating, malicious, or insulting behavior involving the misuse of power that can make a person feel vulnerable, upset, humiliated, undermined, or threatened. Power does not necessarily refer to being in a position of authority, but can also include personal strength and the ability to coerce through fear or intimidation.

Bullying can take the form of physical, verbal and non-verbal conduct, such as:

- Threats of a physical or psychological nature
- Excessive and intimidating supervision
- Inappropriate derogatory remarks about someone's performance

However, legitimate, reasonable, and constructive criticism of a staff's performance or behavior, or reasonable instructions given to staffs in the course of their employment, will not amount to bullying on their own, and this Policy should not be used as an attempt to avoid normal work practices.

If you feel that you are being harassed or bullied, you should consider whether you feel you are able to discuss the problem informally with the person responsible, explaining clearly that their behavior is not welcome or makes you feel uncomfortable. If this is challenging, you should consult your line manager or the human resources team (HR), who can provide confidential advice and help resolve the issue informally, including mediation or a HR-facilitated discussion, if suitable.

If informal discussions are not suitable or have not been successful, you should formally raise your concern with the HR department under our Code of Conduct Policy. We will handle all complaints of discrimination, harassment, and bullying with all seriousness, and will promptly and confidentially investigate them.

There should be no victimization or retaliation against employees who lodge a complaint (or support another's complaint) about discrimination, harassment, or bullying. However, deliberately and maliciously making a false allegation may lead to disciplinary action.

For further information, please also refer to the Code of Conduct. ECOS Mobility maintains a zero-tolerance policy toward all forms of discrimination, harassment, bullying, and inappropriate conduct. We are committed to fostering a workplace that is safe, respectful, inclusive, and free from discrimination or harassment based on any Protected Characteristic, or any other characteristic protected under applicable law. ECOS Mobility will make every reasonable effort and make adjustments in accordance with applicable laws, to ensure that all parts and facilities of ECOS Mobility's office space are safe and accessible.

2. RECRUITMENT AND SELECTION

All recruitment and employment decisions will be made on the basis of fair and objective criteria.

We regularly evaluate our selection procedures to ensure they are suitable for achieving our goals and to prevent illegal discrimination.

All job specifications for employees will only include the requirements necessary for effective job performance. Interviews will be conducted objectively. Applicants will be recruited on the basis of their suitable skills and experience.

To avoid unlawful discrimination, we regularly review our selection process to ensure it is appropriate for achieving our objective.

The needs and requirements of current employees and job applicants who have a disability will be reviewed to ensure that, wherever possible, reasonable adjustments are made to enable them to enter into or remain in employment with us. Promotion opportunities, benefits, and facilities of employment will not be unreasonably limited to them, and every reasonable effort will be made to ensure that disabled individuals participate fully in the workplace.

We are committed to ensuring compliance with all applicable laws while undertaking our recruitment and selection procedures to ensure equality and inclusion.

3. EQUAL PAY

ECOS Mobility is committed to the principle of equal pay for all Protected Characteristics . This includes benefits, promotion, training opportunities, and other incentives provided to employees from time to time.

Our reward system is devoid of Protected Characteristics bias. All employees are entitled to equal pay if they are undertaking work that is substantially similar or is of equal value to the business unless there are specific and clear reasons, unconnected with their Protected Characteristics, which explain and justify any differential pay. In some cases, individuals carrying out similar work may receive different salaries due to seniority, qualifications, experience, or other objective factors, however, such differentiation shall be reasonable.

4. CONFIDENTIALITY

We ensure to maintain the confidentiality of the identity and identifying details of any of the employees or other stakeholders we work with, who wish to keep information regarding their Protected Characteristics confidential (including, without limitation, gender identity, HIV-related information, religious preferences, etc.). We are oriented on the concepts of consent, disclosure, and confidentiality in relation to all information regarding Protected Characteristics and undertake all reasonable steps to prevent unintended or unwanted disclosure of such information. It will be the moral responsibility of all employees not to engage in activities that breach confidentiality.

5. DIVERSITY, EQUALITY, AND INCLUSION ASPIRATIONS AND INITIATIVES
